Working Papers in Ethics and Moral Psychology

UPCOMING EVENTS:
5/24/2018: Camil Golub
/Rutgers University-Newark

PAST EVENTS:
10/12/2017: Eric Chwang
/Rutgers University-Camden

11/2/2017: Phoebe Friesen
/CUNY Graduate Center

12/14/2017: Adam Kolber
/Brooklyn Law School

2/8/2018: Paul Cummins
/ISMMS

3/8/2018: Elizabeth Victor
/William Paterson University

4/19/2018: Melissa Moschella
/Columbia University

Working Papers in Ethics and Moral Psychology is a speaker series conducted under the auspices of the Icahn School of Medicine Bioethics Program. It is a working group where speakers are invited to present well-developed, as yet unpublished work. The focus of the group is interdisciplinary, with an emphasis on topics in ethics, bioethics, neuroethics, and moral psychology. The meetings begin with a brief presentation by the invited speaker and the remaining time is devoted to a discussion of the paper. The speakers will make their papers available in advance of their presentation to those who sign up for the Working Papers mailing list.

JOIN THE WORKING PAPERS MAILING LIST AND RSVP TO:
nada.gligorov@mssm.edu

NEXT EVENT:
TUESDAY, MAY 22, 2018, 5:30-7:00PM
ANNENBERG 12-15

Camil Golub
“Making peace with moral imperfection: the problem of temporal asymmetry”

Camil Golub is an assistant professor of philosophy at Rutgers University-Newark. Golub completed his PhD at New York University, and before that, he studied philosophy at the University of Bucharest. He works primarily in ethics, metaethics, and moral psychology and is also interested in theories of personal identity and the self, especially as they relate to various ethical problems.