List of Awards

We accept nominations for all members of the Mount Sinai Health System and affiliate institutions with the exception of the Medical Student Excellence in Teaching Award (only ISMMS students).

Please check the award for which you are nominating this person:

Excellence in Teaching Award

Faculty who are exceptionally dedicated to their teaching roles and have demonstrated excellence as teachers and role models. Maximum of 5 awards per year.

Housestaff Excellence in Teaching Award

Residents who are exceptionally dedicated to their teaching roles and have demonstrated excellence as teachers and role models. Maximum of 5 awards per year.

Medical Student Excellence in Teaching Award

Medical Students at the Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai who have dedicated a considerable amount of time to teaching other medical students and who have demonstrated excellence as teachers and role models. Maximum of 2 awards per year.

Excellence in the Service of Education Award

Formerly known as the "Special Award for Excellence in a Non-Teaching Role", this includes Faculty or staff who may not be directly teaching our students and residents, but who make outstanding contributions to their educational experiences. Maximum of 2 awards per year.

Dr. Nathan Kase Innovations in Medical Education Award

 Letter from Chair required

This award is named in honor of Dr. Nathan Kase, a forward-thinking innovator in his design of the Humanities and Medicine Program over 25 years ago, an inspirational voice encouraging new educational approaches and a committed supporter of educators and education here at the Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai. Students, residents, faculty or staff who have developed creative and innovative programs in curriculum and assessment to enhance the educational experiences of their learners are eligible for this award. Maximum of 1 award per year.

Dr. Arthur H. Aufses, Jr. Career Achievement Award in Medical Education

 Letter from Chair required

This award is named in honor of Dr. Arthur H. Aufses, Jr., a dedicated teacher at the Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai for over 50 years, a passionate advocate for life-long learning and a beloved member of the Mount Sinai teaching and learning family. Faculty who have demonstrated exceptional teaching ability and a long-standing commitment to advancing the teaching mission of the Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai are eligible for this award. Applicants are generally senior faculty who are viewed by all as having dedicated much of their career to becoming a leader in the field of education and mentoring others to achieve the same. Maximum of 1 award per year.

Master Clinician Award

 Letter from Chair required

Faculty who have demonstrated exceptional acumen as clinicians and clinical teachers are eligible for this award. These are generally senior clinical faculty who are viewed by peers as invaluable bedside teachers and mentors. These faculty have dedicated much of their careers to teaching clinical skills and patient care. Maximum of 1 award per year.
