We at the Mood and Anxiety Disorders Program (MAP) in the Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai want to wish everyone a Happy New Year. The goal of MAP is to understand the fundamental causes of mood and anxiety disorders, and to discover new and effective treatments. We are pleased to bring you this inaugural issue of the MAP Quarterly – a newsletter that will keep our community abreast of Program activities.

Meet the MAP Team

In the News: Dr. Brian Iacoviello Publishes Award-Winning Research

The Academy for Psychosomatic Medicine awarded Dr. Iacoviello the Best Article for Original Research in 2015 Award. The publication reflects Dr. Iacoviello’s research on factors associated with positive outcomes (resilience) among live organ donors. Please join us in congratulating Dr. Iacoviello and his colleagues for winning this prestigious award.

Recent Publications

Interested in our research? To learn more, please visit: mssm.edu/map

Want to keep up-to-date with MAP? Follow us on Twitter: @IcahnMAP
Like us on Facebook: @moodandanxiety