Medical Liability Coverage

Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai provides medical students with medical liability when providing medical services as a part of approved educational activities. Students are not covered while participating in unapproved activities or rotations. During students’ third and fourth years, coverage does not apply for an activity unless the entire registration process has been followed and the activity has been officially listed on your schedule. To assure that you are covered for a specific activity, inquire in the Registrar’s Office. When rotating outside the School of Medicine, you may be requested to provide a letter from the school showing proof of coverage. That letter may be obtained for the Assistant Registrar in 13-30 Annenberg.
