“Comparative Effectiveness Research in New York City: Ways to Join Forces”
Monday, October 28th, 2013
8:00 am – 12:30 pm
Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai

This half-day conference will bring together Scientists from the New York City area interested in comparative effectiveness research and explore ways to foster inter-institutional collaborations. Following the keynote address, research presentations will be given by investigators from Weill-Cornell Medical College, Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai, and Albert Einstein College of Medicine. The symposium will end with a panel discussion exploring how NYC institutions can join forces to conduct CER more efficiently and effectively.

Keynote Address:  Practice-Based Evidence Research: An Alternative to Randomized Controlled Trials and Traditional Observational Studies
Susan Horn, PhD, Senior Scientist
Institute for Clinical Outcomes Research, Salt Lake City, Utah

| Comparative Effectiveness of Anesthetic Types in Complex Surgery for Patients with Obstructive Sleep Apnea | S. Memtstoudis, MD, PhD
M. Mazumdar, PhD |
|---|---|
| Comparative Effectiveness of Surgical Procedures in Cardiovascular Disease | A. Gelijns, PhD
E. Bagiella, PhD |
| Comparative Effectiveness of Integrated Care Models for Comorbid Medical and Psychiatric Illness | J. Arnsten, MD, MPH
M. Kim, ScD |

Location:  Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai
Goldwurm Auditorium
Icahn Medical Institute – 1st floor
1425 Madison Ave, New York, NY  10029

Registration is free, but you must register to attend. Please go to:  http://apps.mountsinai.org/events/cer
For more information, please contact Emilia Bagiella at Emilia.bagiella@mssm.edu.
This conference is supported in part by the CTSA Grant from the National Center for Advancing Translational Sciences (NCATS), a component of the National Institutes of Health (NIH).