

Meet our Current Pediatric Hospital Medicine Fellows!

Annum Jaffer, MD
Class of 2026

Residency: New York University, Pediatrics

Hometown: Dallas, Texas

Clinical and Research Interests:

- Monitoring and Evaluation
- Quality Improvement of global health programs in Pakistan
- Implementing and evaluating community-led and community-based programs in global health settings
- Implementing and evaluating training of community health workers

Favorite Place in NYC: Any street in NYC at 8am where the sun is shining, birds are chirping, trees are tree-ing, and there are people walking around with some pep in their step.

Favorite Restaurant in NYC: Tyger

Izumi Watanabe, MD
Class of 2025

Residency: Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai, Pediatrics

Hometown: New York, NY

Clinical and Research Interests:

- Implementing and evaluating a process for universal social determinants of health screening on or inpatient pediatric floor
- Developing initiatives to improve hospital throughput and decrease delays.

Favorite Place in NYC: Central Park

Favorite Restaurant in NYC: Oh dear. "Favorite" is hard, each one has a time and a place. Siena is a fun brunch! The Winslow is a great gin bar downtown. Never met a Thai restaurant I didn't like. Rice to Riches is the BEST and has so many different flavors of rice pudding!
