Internship Program Admissions

The internship provides training in fundamental clinical psychology skills within the setting of a rehabilitation medicine hospital. As such, the internship emphasizes training in conducting assessments (primarily neuropsychological assessments) and implementing clinical interventions with people who have recently become disabled. Candidates in good standing from doctoral programs (either Ph.D. or Psy.D. degrees) approved by either The American or Canadian Psychological Association in Clinical, Counseling or School Psychology are eligible to apply for the Doctoral Internship Training Program. Candidates must have completed all academic course work and comprehensive examinations leading to a doctoral degree at start of the internship. Students are encouraged to complete their dissertation prior to starting their internship. At a minimum, dissertation proposals must be completed prior to the start of the training year. Reflecting the specialized nature of our training, prior experience in the administration and interpretation of neuropsychological assessment tools is required and prior experience in a rehabilitation medicine and/or health psychology setting is highly valued. Candidates from minority and/or disability backgrounds are strongly encouraged to apply.

A minimum of 500 hours of combined intervention and assessment experience is required prior to start of the internship. This includes minimums of:

Total Direct Contact Intervention Hours 300
 Total Direct Contact Assessment Hours 100
