

National Public Health Week: Open Events

Monday, April 3

10am-4pm

Learn more about Public Health Education at ISMMS

Guggenheim Pavilion

4:30-5:30pm

“Molecular to Population-Level Approaches to Cardiovascular Health”
Presented by: Valentin Fuster, MD, PhD

Annenberg A5-212

Please RSVP here!

1.0 CPH continuing education credit available

Tuesday, April 4

10am-1pm

Learn more about Public Health Education at ISMMS

Guggenheim Pavilion

1:30-3pm

“Global Health Sustainability in a New Era of Nationalism”

Hatch Auditorium

In conversation with Nata Menabde, PhD, Executive Director, World Health Organization Office at the United Nations and Alex Preker, MD, PhD

Co-sponsor: United Nations Association Chapter at Mount Sinai

1.0 CPH continuing education credit available

(1:30-2:30 Lecture, Light refreshments to follow)

Wednesday, April 5

3-4pm

Yoga in the Park

[Central Park East Meadow
at 99th St and 5th Ave](#)

Mats will be provided. Space is limited to 20 people.

Advanced registration required. RSVP here by April 4

Thursday, April 6

12-1:30pm

“Intersectionality and Sexual and Reproductive Justice”

Hatch Auditorium

Presented by: Shirley Gatenio Gabel, PhD, MPH
Professor, Fordham University Graduate School of Social Service

1.0 CPH continuing education credit available

(12-1 Lecture, Lunch to follow)

Friday, April 7

4:30-7pm

Public Health Day of Service

New York City Rescue Mission

MPH students will be partnering with the New York City Rescue Mission This is an opportunity for student volunteers to prepare, serve and spend time with the homeless community in the city.

This event has limited space, so make sure to sign up quickly!

National Public Health Week: Student Events

Tuesday, April 4, 7:30-9:30pm

Annenberg 13-01

Co-sponsor: Public Health Interest Group

Screening: Before the Flood

Join the Public Health Interest Group as we celebrate National Public Health Week! We will be screening Before the Flood directed by Fisher Stevens. Food will also be provided!

<https://www.beforetheflood.com/>

Wednesday, April 5, 7-8pm

Student Lounge

Co-sponsor: Icahn Be Well

Desserts and Deities

Spiritual well-being is a core tenet of overall wellness. For some, it looks like participation in an organized religion. For others, it means connecting with people, animals, nature, and music. For everyone, spirituality is complex and ever-evolving.

IcahnBeWell is partnering with the MPH Program & Sinai Faith Groups to hold an open discussion exploring:

- How does your religion or lack thereof contribute to your overall wellness & coping with stress?
- How does it impact how you think about death?
- How does it affect how you interact with people? With patients, colleagues?

Delicious desserts will be served! All in the Sinai community are encouraged to attend.

Thursday, April 6, 7-8pm

HESS Seminar Room A

Trump'd: Facing the Reality of the New Administration

Students at Mount Sinai come from a variety of backgrounds that create a rich environment for community engagement and academic pursuit. In wake of the recent election, many students have voiced concerns over how the Trump administration will affect them personally and professionally. This event will be led by Dr. Katz, a psychiatrist and long time faculty member at Mount Sinai and will be a time for students to come together and discuss questions and opportunities for action.

Friday, April 7, 4:30-7pm

Public Health Day of Service - New York City Rescue Mission

MPH students will be partnering with the New York City Rescue Mission. This is an opportunity for student volunteers to prepare, serve and spend time with the homeless community in the city.

This event has limited space, so make sure to sign up quickly! Further details to follow for those who volunteer.