UPCOMING EVENTS:

3/14/2019: Kyle Ferguson
/CUNY Graduate Center

4/18/2019: Jeff Sebo
/NYU

5/23/2019: Johann Frick
/Princeton University

PAST EVENTS:

10/11/2018: Jordan Mackenzie
/NYU

11/8/2018: Susana Nuccetelli
/St. Cloud State University

12/13/2018: Michael Brownstein
/John Jay College

Working Papers in Ethics and Moral Psychology is a speaker series conducted under the auspices of the Icahn School of Medicine Bioethics Program. It is conceived as a working group where speakers are invited to present well-developed, as yet unpublished work. The focus of the group will be interdisciplinary, with a primary focus on topics in ethics, bioethics, neuroethics, and moral psychology.

JOIN THE WORKING PAPERS MAILING LIST AND RSVP TO:
nada.gligorov@mssm.edu

NEXT EVENT:

THURSDAY MARCH 14TH 2019, 5:30-7:00PM
ANNENBERG 12-12

Kyle Ferguson (CUNY Graduate Center)
“The Varieties of Practical Disagreement”

Kyle Ferguson is a doctoral student at the CUNY Graduate Center. His research in bioethics explores the idea of an autonomous medical ethic and what this means for the methods and goals of medical ethics education. He is also researching cases of conflict between a physician’s professional obligations and the demands of his or her conscience or private moral judgments, and how the medical profession should respond to such cases.