UPCOMING EVENTS:
11/14/2019: Marianna Bergamaschi Ganapini
/Union College
12/12/2019: Ross Colebrook
/Baruch College
3/12/2020: Stephen Grimm
/Fordham University
4/23/2020: Claudia Passos-Ferreira
/NYU
5/21/2020: L. Syd M. Johnson
/SUNY Upstate Medical University

PAST EVENTS:
10/3/2019: Mark Sheehan
/Oxford University

Working Papers in Ethics and Moral Psychology is a speaker series conducted under the auspices of the Icahn School of Medicine Bioethics Program. It is conceived as a working group where speakers are invited to present well-developed, as yet unpublished work. The focus of the group will be interdisciplinary, with a primary focus on topics in ethics, bioethics, neuroethics, and moral psychology.

JOIN THE WORKING PAPERS MAILING LIST AND RSVP TO:
nada.gligorov@mssm.edu

NEXT EVENT:
THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 2019, 5:30-7:00PM
ANNENBERG 13-82
Marianna Bergamaschi Ganapini (Union College)
“Aging and Self-knowledge”

Prof. Ganapini’s main areas of research are Philosophy of Mind and Epistemology. Her most recent publications are a paper in philosophy of language (“Doubting Assertion”) and a paper on the moral error theory (“Why We Can Still Believe the Error Theory”). Her work currently focuses on reasoning and mental states such as belief and imagination. She also has related interests in metaethics, philosophy of language, and philosophy of action.