The Icahn School of Medicine (ISMMS) is committed to creating a welcoming environment for all Post-Doctoral Fellows at the Graduate School of ISMMS including those who identify as transgender, gender nonconforming or other gender. To that end, we are working closely with faculty and administration to provide services and educational experiences designed to better support LGBTQ post-doctoral fellows.

Post-doctoral fellows at ISMMS can specify the pronoun they want used on campus through the Graduate Office. . Should you choose to list a preferred pronoun, it will only appear on course rosters and advisor lists. Your choice of pronoun consists of following options: none (nothing listed), he, she, they, and name only. Name only indicates the student wishes to never be referred to by any pronoun.

A post-doctoral fellows' Gender Pronoun will be shared on internal rosters and advising lists only.
