Global Advantage Framework

Cover & Define
Coverage and access gaps should be mapped at the community level, and gaps in the ability of individuals and families to access and afford primary health services should be well-defined.

Anchor & Embed
Primary care health practices are anchor institutions in their neighborhoods. Practices should know where their patients live, and they should proactively link them to a community-based team and local services.

Shared & Actionable Goals
Integrate mobile technologies that follow journeys of community members’ care and track collaborations between the health system and community.

Simple Protocols & Accountable Care
In order to develop an integrated community-based health workforce, a local integrator or backbone organization should foster ownership for health management in community settings.

Train & Organize
Develop a network of community-based workers to organize community members, with the goal of identifying the most pressing health needs.
